Announcement:

The Department of Statistics Malaysia (DOSM) will conduct the Economic Census in 2023. DOSM greatly appreciates the cooperation from respondents to provide information with DOSM and make this census a success.

Please visit www.dosm.gov.my for more information.

DOSM has launched OpenDOSM NextGen as a platform that provides a catalogue of data and visualisation that facilitates users in analysing various types of data. OpenDOSM NextGen is an open source data sharing medium and accessible through <https://open.dosm.gov.my> portal.

Please be informed that the Government of Malaysia has declared National Statistics Day (MyStats Day) on October 20 each year.

MyStats Day theme is “Connecting the World with Data We Can Trust”.

PREFACE

The monthly Labour Force Report, Malaysia, presents the statistics of labour force, employment and unemployment obtained from the Labour Force Survey (LFS). The implementation of the LFS is based on the guidelines and recommendations of the International Labour Organization (ILO) with reference to the Surveys of Economically Active Population, Employment, Unemployment and Underemployment: An ILO Manual on Concepts and Methods.

The labour force statistics are used as a vital input for labour market analysis, policy formulation as well as planning, implementing, and monitoring programmes particularly related to human resource development. These statistics also serve as an essential references to researchers, economists, academicians, private sector, and individuals in research related to employment and the labour market.

The Labour Force Report for January 2023 describes the labour supply situation as the country was in the transition phase to endemicity. The report also elaborates on the month-on-month changes to examine the immediate effects of recent events. In addition, annual changes from the same month of the previous year are also reported.

The Department of Statistics Malaysia gratefully acknowledges the cooperation and contribution rendered by all parties in making this publication a success. Every feedback and suggestion towards improving future reports are highly appreciated.

CONCEPTS AND DEFINITIONS

What is Labour Force Survey (LFS)?

Labour Force Survey (LFS) was conducted to collect information on the structure and distribution of labour force, employment and unemployment from the perspective of labour supply.

LFS encompasses both urban and rural areas for all administrative districts within all states in Malaysia using multi-modal data collection approach through the personal interview and a Computer-Assisted Telephone Interview (CATI).

The LFS are conducted based on the standard guidelines and recommendations of the International Labour Organizations (ILO).

The survey population comprises persons who live in the private living quarters, hence excludes persons residing in institutions such as hotels, hospitals, hostels, prisons, and workers residing in construction worksite.

The working age for the analysis of LFS in Malaysia refers to household members between the age of 15 to 64 years during the reference week, who are either in the labour force or outside the labour force.

LABOUR FORCE

- The population in the working age group of 15 to 64 years (in completed years at last birthday).
- Either employed or unemployed in the reference week.

EMPLOYED

- Persons who, at any time during the reference week worked at least one hour for pay, profit or family gain (as an employer, employee, own-account worker or unpaid family worker).
- Persons who did not work during the reference week because of illness, injury, bad weather, leave, labour dispute and social or religious reasons but had a job, farm, enterprise or other family enterprise to return to.
- Those on temporary lay-off with pay who would definitely be called back to work.

UNEMPLOYED

- Those who did not work during the reference week but are interested to work and seeking for a job.
- Classified into two groups which are actively and inactively unemployed.

OUTSIDE LABOUR FORCE

- All persons not classified as employed or unemployed.
- Example: housewives, students, retirees, disabled persons and those not interested in looking for a job.

UNEMPLOYMENT RATE

- The proportion of the unemployed population to the total population in labour force.
- Percentage of the unemployed population in the labour force.

LABOUR FORCE PARTICIPATION RATE

- The economic activity of a population depends on the demographic characteristics of that population.
- The proportion of the economically active population, hence differs between sub-groups of that population.
- These variations are measured by specific activity rates termed as labour force participation rate.
- Labour force participation rate is defined as the ratio of the labour force to the working age population (15 to 64 years), expressed as a percentage.

SEASONAL ADJUSTMENT

- Time-series data are very useful for economist, policy & decision makers and time-series analysts to identify the important features of economics series such as direction, turning point and consistency between other economic indicators. Sometimes this feature is difficult to observe because of seasonal movements. Thus, if seasonal effect can be removed, the behaviour of the series would be better viewed. The estimation and removal of the seasonal effects is called seasonal adjustment.
- Seasonal adjustment is a process to identify and to remove the regular within-a-year seasonal pattern, which may also include the influences of moving holidays and working/trading days effect in each period. The ultimate objective of the process is to highlight the underlying trends and short-term movements in the series.
- In Malaysia, most of the time series data are affected by seasonal effects. Hence, to eliminate the seasonal effect as well as to seasonally adjust the Malaysian economic time series data, a standard seasonal adjustment package, X-12 ARIMA was used by Department of Statistics Malaysia.

KEY REVIEWS

- The number of employed persons in January 2023 further increased by 0.2 per cent (+28.9 thousand persons) to record 16.16 million persons (December 2022: 16.13 million persons). In January, the employment-to-population ratio, which indicates the ability of an economy to create employment, remained at 67.3 per cent.
- In terms of economic sectors, Services sector continued to register increases in the number of employed persons, largely in Wholesale & retail trade; Food & beverage services; and Administrative & support service activities. Similar trend of employment was also observed in the Manufacturing, Construction and Mining & quarrying sectors, as well as in the Agriculture sector.
- The employees' category accounted for 75.7 per cent of the total employed persons in January 2023. As compared to the previous month, this category recorded a marginal increase of 0.1 per cent (+11.8 thousand persons), reaching a total of 12.24 million persons (December 2022: 12.23 million persons). A similar trend was also observed in the own-account workers, with an increase of 0.6 per cent (+16.9 thousand persons) to record 2.88 million persons (December 2022: 2.86 million persons).
- The number of unemployed persons declined further in January 2023 to record 596.1 thousand persons, reduced by 0.6 per cent (-3.5 thousand persons) as against 599.6 thousand persons in December 2022. The unemployment rate during the month remained at 3.6 per cent.
- The number of labour force improved further in January 2023, increased by 0.2 per cent or 25.4 thousand persons to record 16.76 million persons (December 2022: 16.73 million persons). The labour force participation rate (LFPR) in January was unchanged at 69.8 per cent.
- In January 2023, the number of persons outside the labour force posted a decline of 1.2 thousand persons (-0.02%) to 7.24 million persons (December 2022: 7.24 million persons). Housework/ family responsibilities were the main reason for the outside labour force with a contribution share of 43.0 per cent, followed by schooling/ training with 40.8 per cent.
- In tandem with the transition phase of the country to the endemic and the reopening of international borders, Malaysia is foreseen to be benefitted from the spillover of the increase in the number of tourist arrivals, as well as more productive trade and business activities in Malaysia, which will in turn contribute towards a stable recovery, particularly in the Services sector. Thus, business activity is expected to continue to grow in early 2023, contributing to more job opportunities, hence encouraging more labour force participation in the market and subsequently strengthening the labour market and improving the country's economic performance. In line with the situation, the labour market position is also anticipated to remain stable and expand in the upcoming months.

1 MALAYSIA'S LABOUR MARKET PERFORMANCE REMAINS RESILIENT IN JANUARY 2023, RESULTING FROM THE CONTINUOUS EXPANSION OF EMPLOYMENT AND LOWER UNEMPLOYMENT

Moving into 2023, the global economy remains in better shape despite the prolonged inflation across the world. According to The World Economic Outlook Update, which was released by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) in January 2023, the world economy is projected to grow by 2.9 per cent in 2023 and improve to 3.1 per cent in 2024¹. Meanwhile, by looking at Malaysia's economic prospects, the country's economy increased by 7.0 per cent in the fourth quarter of 2022 (Q3 2022: 14.2%) and the year 2022 concluded with an economic growth of 8.7 per cent as compared to 3.1 per cent in the preceding year, outstanding to the promising performance that was driven by a healthier growth in all sectors and a low base effect in 2021.

Following this, the labour market in 2023 is predicted to post a strong performance due to the firm domestic demand, China's reopening, the revival of construction projects, the expansion of primary sectors due to elevated global commodity prices and modest external trade activities (MIDF, 2023)². In addition, during the month, the tourism sector was also paving the way recovery consequent to the sharp uptick in the number of tourist arrivals since the reopening of the international borders. Coupled with the public holidays of New Year celebrations, domestic travel increased as Malaysians preferred to celebrate New Year and Chinese New Year as well as staycations with family and friends. Therefore, Malaysia's labour market performance remains resilient in January 2023, resulting from the continuous expansion of employment and lower unemployment.

On another note, the Malaysia's Leading Index (LI) was decreased by 0.6 per cent to 110.7 points (December 2021: 111.4 points). The LI's monthly performance recorded an increase of 0.2 per cent in December 2022 as against 0.8 per cent in the previous month. The smoothed long-term trend of LI in December 2022 remains below the trend of 100.0 points. Therefore, Malaysia's economy is expected to be at ease in the next few months in line with the IMF expectations for global economic growth. As for the monthly external trade indicators for January 2023, exports decreased by 14.4 per cent (December 2022: 1.6%) as well as imports, which continued to decline with a reduction of 8.6 per cent (December 2022: -4.0%).

2 The number of employed persons further increased in January 2023

The number of employed persons further increased in January 2023 by 0.2 per cent (+28.9 thousand persons) to record 16.16 million persons (December 2022: 16.13 million persons). Similarly, in seasonally adjusted terms, the number of employed persons increased by 0.2 per cent. By comparing with the same month of last year, the number of employed persons surged by 3.0 per cent or 473.2 thousand persons (January 2022: 15.69 million persons).

In terms of economic sector, Services sector continued to register increases in the number of employed persons, largely in Wholesale & retail trade; Food & beverage services and Administrative & support service activities. Similar trend of employment was also observed in the Manufacturing, Construction and Mining & quarrying sectors, as well as in the Agriculture sector.

In January, the employment-to-population ratio which indicates the ability of an economy to create employment remained at 67.3 per cent. Year-on-year, the ratio rose by 1.1 percentage points (January 2022: 66.2%) [Chart 1].

Chart 1: Employed persons and employment-to-population ratio, January 2019 - January 2023

The employees' category accounted for 75.7 per cent of the total employed persons in January 2023. As compared to the previous month, this category recorded a marginal increase of 0.1 per cent (+11.8 thousand persons), reaching a total of 12.24 million persons (December 2022: 12.23 million persons). A similar trend was also observed in the own-account workers, with an increase of 0.6 per cent (+16.9 thousand persons) to record 2.88 million persons (December 2022: 2.86 million persons). This group consists mostly of daily income earners working as small business operators such as retailers; hawkers; sellers in markets and stalls, as well as smallholders [Chart 2].

Chart 2: Employed person by status in employment, December 2022 and January 2023

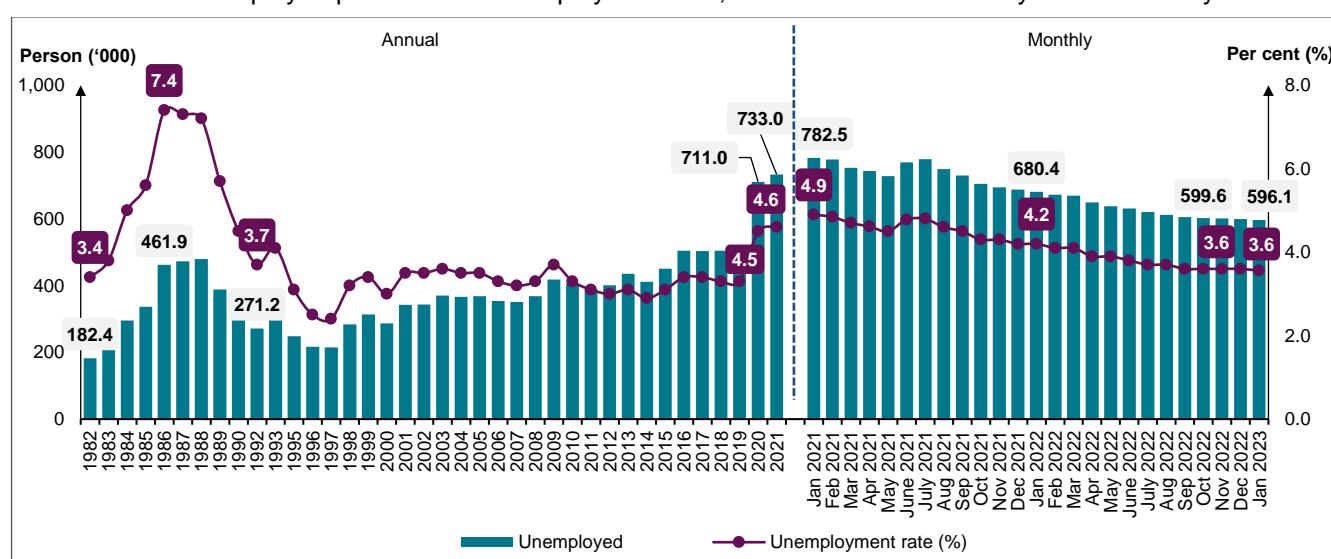

During the month, the number of employed persons who were temporarily not working declined by 10.3 thousand persons (-11.3%) to 81.3 thousand persons (December 2022: 91.6 thousand persons). In the meantime, this category fell by 13.0 per cent year-on-year (-12.2 thousand persons) as compared to 93.5 thousand persons recorded in January 2022. This group of persons, who were most likely unable to work, was not classified as unemployed as they had work to return to.

The number of unemployed persons declined further in January 2023 to record 596.1 thousand persons, reduced by 0.6 per cent (-3.5 thousand persons) as against 599.6 thousand persons in December 2022. The unemployment rate during the month remained at 3.6 per cent. In seasonally adjusted terms, the number of unemployed persons decreased by 0.3 per cent, and subsequently the unemployment rate declined to 3.6 per cent.

As compared to the same month of the preceding year, the number of unemployed persons posted a decrease of 12.4 per cent or equivalent to a reduction of 84.3 thousand persons (January 2022: 680.4 thousand persons). Subsequently, the unemployment rate edged down by 0.6 percentage points as compared to 4.2 per cent in January 2022 [Chart 3].

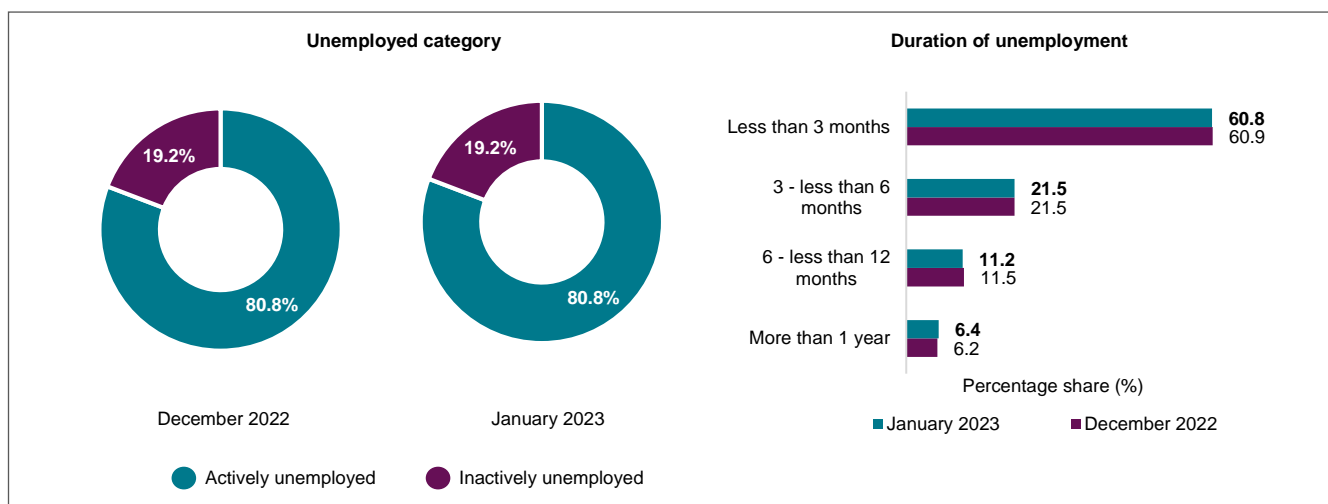

Chart 3: Unemployed persons and unemployment rate, 1982 - 2021 and January 2021 - January 2023

By category of unemployment, the majority of the unemployed persons were the actively unemployed or those who were available for work and actively seeking jobs, encompassed 80.8 per cent. This category registered a decline of 0.5 per cent (-2.6 thousand persons) to record 481.6 thousand persons (December 2022: 484.2 thousand persons). With regards to the total number of actively unemployed, 60.8 per cent were those who were unemployed for less than three months, while those who were unemployed for more than a year³ comprised 6.4 per cent. Meanwhile, those who believed that no jobs were available or the inactively unemployed, decreased by 0.8 per cent to register 114.5 thousand persons (December 2022: 115.4 thousand persons) [Chart 4].

4 Labour force improved further in January 2023

The number of labour force improved further in January 2023, increased by 0.2 per cent or 25.4 thousand persons to record 16.76 million persons (December 2022: 16.73 million persons). Meanwhile, the labour force participation rate (LFPR) was unchanged at 69.8 per cent. In seasonally adjusted estimate, the number of labour force increased marginally by 0.1 per cent, while the LFPR stood at 69.7 per cent.

By comparing with twelve months earlier, the number of labour force remained stable, with an increase of 2.4 per cent (+389.0 thousand persons) (January 2022: 16.37 million persons). Accordingly, the LFPR increased by 0.7 percentage points as against 69.1 per cent recorded in January 2022 [Chart 6].

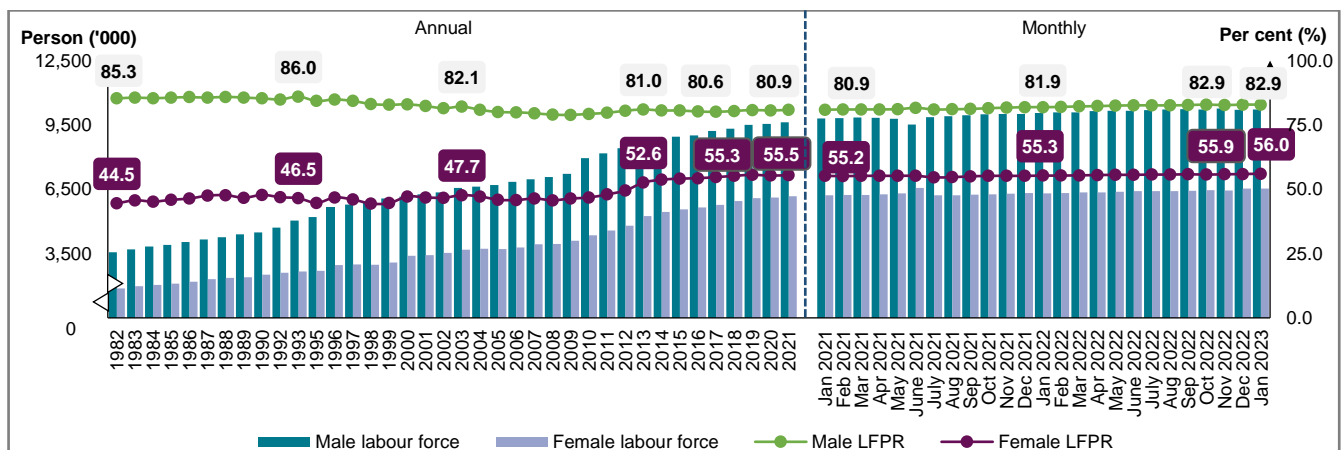

Chart 6: Labour force and LFPR, 1982 - 2021 and January 2021 - January 2023

In January 2023, both male and female registered increases in the number of labour force by recording 10.22 million persons and 6.53 million persons respectively (December 2022: 10.20 million persons, 6.53 million persons). In terms of LFPR, male LFPR stood at 82.9 per cent, while female LFPR increased by 0.1 percentage points to 56.0 per cent.

On a yearly comparison, both male and female labour force continued to rise, with an addition of 1.7 per cent and 3.4 per cent respectively (January 2022: 10.1 million persons; 6.3 million persons). Subsequently, the male LFPR rose by 1.0 percentage points (January 2022: 81.9%), as well as the female LFPR, edged up by 0.7 percentage points (January 2022: 55.3%) [Chart 7].

Chart 7: Labour force and LFPR by sex, 1982 - 2021 and January 2021 - January 2023

5 Housework/ family responsibilities were the main reason of the outside labour force

In January 2023, the number of persons outside the labour force posted a decline of 1.2 thousand persons (-0.02%) to 7.24 million persons (December 2022: 7.24 million persons). In the meantime, the number of outside labour force continued to fall by 93.8 thousand persons (-1.3%) year-on-year (January 2022: 7.33 million persons). Housework/ family responsibilities were the main reason for the outside labour force with a contribution share of 43.0 per cent, followed by schooling/ training with 40.8 per cent [Chart 8].

Chart 8: Share of outside labour force by reasons for not seeking work, December 2022 and January 2023

6 LOOKING AHEAD

In 2023, the Malaysian economy is expected to moderate, following the economic challenges and possible geopolitical tensions. Malaysia's Gross Domestic Product (GDP) is also expected to register moderate growth of around 4.5 per cent in 2023, although supported by the strength of the country's macroeconomic fundamentals, the strength of domestic demand, and the effectiveness of the implementation of the 12th Malaysia Plan (12MP)⁴. In addition, according to the Minister of Economy, Malaysia is also on track to join the ranks of high-income countries if the country's economic growth continues to grow between four and five per cent with a stronger ringgit.

Furthermore, in tandem with the transition phase of the country to the endemic and the reopening of international borders, Malaysia is foreseen to be benefitted from the spillover of the increase in the number of tourist arrivals, as well as more productive trade and business activities in Malaysia, which will in turn contributed towards a stable recovery, particularly in the Services sector. This scenario is seen as being in line with the business performance forecast for the first quarter of 2023, whereby the sentiment among Malaysian traders remained positive at the beginning of 2023, with confidence indicators in the first quarter of 2023 showing a slight improvement to +3.6 per cent as compared to +3.2 per cent recorded in the previous quarter.

Thus, business activity is expected to continue to grow in early 2023, contributing to more job opportunities, hence encouraging more labour force participation in the market and subsequently strengthening the labour market and improving the country's economic performance. In line with the situation, the labour market position is also anticipated to remain stable and expand in the upcoming months.
