Moderate inflation, robust labour market, and steady performance across key sectors sustain Malaysia's positive economic momentum

- Malaysia's cumulative growth in the first three quarters of 2025 slowed to 4.7 per cent from 5.2 per cent a year earlier. The Services sector remained the main driver supported by domestic demand, while Manufacturing grew moderately and Construction continued to record strong growth. Meanwhile, Agriculture and Mining & Quarrying showed mixed performance due to weather conditions and changes in commodity prices.

- Natural rubber production declined by 22.7 per cent year-on-year to 29,673 tonnes in October 2025. Meanwhile, fresh fruit bunches (FFB) production rose by 15.6 per cent year-on-year to 9,678,566 tonnes in November 2025.

- In October 2025, Malaysia's Industrial Production Index (IPI) strengthened further, expanding by 6.0 per cent year-on-year from 5.7 per cent in September 2025. Meanwhile, the Electricity sector grew at a more moderate pace of 1.2 per cent. The Manufacturing sector recorded a stronger performance in October 2025, with sales value increasing by 6.3 per cent year-on-year to RM171.7 billion, improving from a 4.3 per cent growth in the previous month.

- Looking at Malaysia's Wholesale & Retail Trade performance, the total sales reached RM160.9 billion in October 2025, marking a 7.2 per cent year-on-year increase.

- Malaysia's inflation moderated to 1.3 per cent in October 2025 from a1.5 per cent increase in the previous month and inflation increased by 1.4 per cent in November 2025. Meanwhile, the Producer Price Index (PPI) in November 2025 went down by 1.8 per cent in as compared to 0.1 per cent decrease in October 2025.

- Malaysia's merchandise trade increased by 13.6 per cent year-on-year to RM277.6 billion in October 2025, with exports rising by 15.7 per cent to RM148.3 billion and imports increasing by 11.2 per cent to RM129.3 billion.

- At the same time, Malaysia's labour market continued to show steady conditions in October 2025, with the number of employed persons rising by 2.8 per cent year-on-year to 17.06 million and increasing by 0.2 per cent compared with the previous month.

- In addition, Malaysia's Leading Index (LI) advanced by 3.6 per cent year-on-year to 116.2 points in October 2025 from 112.2 points a year earlier.
